On behalf of those you've helped...
Thank you!

Dear Friends of the Food Bank,

Thank you very much for Los Encinos School's donation of $567.65 to the Houston Food Bank. We are so grateful for your contribution. We've received an unprecedented number of donations and kind messages of support from all 50 states and around the globe, and I apologize for how long it has taken to get this letter to you. I appreciate your patience and understanding and am glad to finally have the opportunity to share our message of gratitude.

Your donation to help those affected by Hurricane Harvey has enabled the Food Bank to distribute 22 million pounds of product—three times more than usual, including food and cleaning supplies. As a result of generous donations like yours, the Houston Food Bank is equipped to continue providing food and supplies in the short term, and for many months to come, to residents in southeast Texas struggling to rebuild their lives. Donations will be used for disaster-relief until this year's needs are met, and any remaining funds will support on-going hunger relief efforts.

Your gift will ensure that those in need, especially our most vulnerable neighbors, have access to nutritious meals now, and in the days ahead. Throughout the United States there are approximately 200 Feeding America-member food banks that are not only committed to responding in times of disaster, but are also a key source of hunger-relief in their local communities every day. These organizations, large and small, are doing amazing things to provide meals year-round to hungry families. If you aren't already, I would encourage you to get involved with your local Feeding America food bank, Los Angeles Regional Food Bank. You can learn more about them, and the great things they are doing to support your neighbors in need, at www.lafoodbank.org as we all work together to end hunger in America. Thank you for bringing hope to so many of our neighbors in need.

Gratefully,

Brian Greene
President/CEO
